To: Jacob Groshek <admin@newtonareafagfootball.com>

I have memories from when I was a kid, but only a handful are anchored to a (very) specific time and place. Yesterday will be a vivid memory for these kids.

I don't know how you did it, how you worked out a deal with Fenway, but you did a really great thing.

Thank you!!

Dr. Groshek,

I left Manhattan and I am sad that I won't be able to say goodbyes in person :(
However, I just wanted to THANK YOU for everything that you have done for me!!!
You have been such an amazing role model and mentor.
Also, thank you for introducing me to social media analytics, I have learned so much from you!
I wish you nothing but the best, because you are the best!

Hello,

Yes, you can forward it to Brooke. I'm taking a directed study with her as an administrative stand in for your course, so she'll put in the grade from your course as the grade for the directed study.

Thank you again for having me in your class! It has helped give me a vocabulary to talk about these phenomena more, and I'm excited to continue learning more.

I hope to see you in the future, and please feel free to get in touch if you have any students who would be interested in sitting in on social network courses at the Network Science Institute. I'll be doing a directed study with Brooke next semester that will focus on designing a course in networked communication, so I'd be happy to let you know when that becomes a fully fledged graduate course.

I hope you have a nice holiday!

Request for a letter of recommendation for Yazhu Xu

Dear Professor Groshek,

This is Yazhu Xu. I hope everything is going well in Europe. You may remember I have discussed about studying in Netherlands after this program in BU. I also went to Tilburg this winter and had great experience there. I am currently in the process of applying to Tilburg University and preparing for the letter of recommendation.

I have made a lot of progress in doing research because of "Masters Collaboratory Project" course, not only when I studied during class, but also when I wrote the statement for the conference. I really appreciate your great teaching. It is my first time to learn doing research in such a systematic and clear way. I put a lot effort in this course and I am glad I got A- in this course. Given your professional experience in Netherlands and my performance in last semester, if I could get a recommendation from you, I will be with more advantage with my application. So would it be possible for you to write a strong letter of recommendation for me?

If you want more information from me, please let me know. It will be my pleasure to assist you as much as possible.

Thanks for taking time to consider my request.

Sincerely,

Yazhu Xu

Thanks for a great semester - I never thought I'd enjoy statistics so much (my mother, in particular, is shocked, and my dad is thrilled)!

Hi Professor Groshek!

I just have a quick question regarding citing information other than that used in the appendix. I referenced a few news and journal articles in our introduction as defense for why what we are researching is important and I was just wondering if you prefer APA, MLA, or Chicago.

Thanks! And thank you for a great semester. I didn't realize how quickly I would be able to utilize these skills until SPSS came up last week in one of my interviews for a summer internship.

Hope you had a restful weekend,

Thanks for your email. I'm glad the class is already paying some dividends.

As far as reference style go, I typically suggest APA but so long as you consistently apply one style throughout the paper I don't have any objections.

Very best,

The articles you referred me were definitely useful, although the Parks one was centered around emoticon usage I was able to extract some useful information from it. I hope that my paper shows an understanding of the key concepts I took from this class, I tried my best to tell stories from the various graphs I made.

This course was definitely a challenge for me since I am not much of a technical or software person, but I truly enjoyed learning about all the new ideas and software this semester and know they will help me with my career in the future.

When analyzing the correlation graph between age and amount of clothes, we found that the sig (.094) was due to chance and not statistically significant; however, in the pearson and cramer says the sig is .000, which means it is not due to chance. Please explain this for us when you have time. We really are trying our best to not contact you about every little detail, but we really want to do well and online/friends have not been able to help us understand. We really appreciate your help.

Thank you,

Sarah Braunstein

Sorry but not tonight. Please email me the problem. You can submit tomorrow if necessary, and I'll be on campus around lunchtime again.

Sounds good! Just wanted to see. I read the coolest article about Nate Silver. I wouldn't mind that at all. Thanks for a fun semester!

Hi Tala,

Yes, you are correct--I missed including your participation on the ethics survey. I am truly sorry for that omission.

Even so, when I award those extra five points, they push your overall percent to 89%, which is still a B+.

It sounds like you did have a busy and very interesting semester. Consider me jealous about the basketball stats. If you are interested in it, you can predict sports outcomes with regression models, not unlike Nate Silver and Moneyball. Think about it.

Best,

Jacob

Hi Professor,

I do not remember doing a qualtrics quiz online so I suppose I missed that. I don't know how I would provide evidence that I did the extra credit assignments, but I did do both the COM Colloquium twitter hashtag extra credit and the survey with the likert scale (correct me if I'm mistaken) with my attitude towards journalism and whether or not they did ethical work and my general perception of them. How would I prove that I had done this survey to you? I did do it the same day you sent it out on my phone. Thank you! As for timeliness, it is something I struggle with and am working on. I took on far too much this semester and worked every Sunday, Monday, Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday from 6:30am-3:00 in addition to doing stats for Basketball and performing with my a cappella group. No excuses, obviously, but I learned what my body could actually take and am sorry that it so negatively affected my participation in your class. Please let me know about that extra credit assignment. Hope you are enjoying the lovely day.

Kind Regards,
